第３講 第３問徹底対策

第３問Ａ対策

You found the following story in a blog written by a female exchange student in your school.

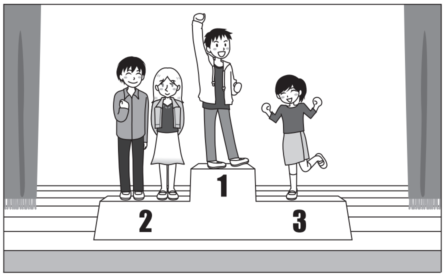
School Festival

Sunday, September 15

I went with my friend Takuya to his high school festival. I hadn't been to a Japanese school festival before. We first tried the ghost house. It was well-made, using projectors and a good sound system to create a frightening atmosphere.

Then we watched a dance show performed by students. They were cool and danced well. It's a pity that the weather was bad. If it had been sunny, they could have danced outside. At lunch time, we ate Hawaiian pancakes, Thai curry, and Mexican tacos at the food stalls. They were all good, but the Italian pizza had already sold out by the time we found the pizza stall.

In the afternoon, we participated in a karaoke competition together as both of us love singing. Surprisingly, we almost won, which was amazing as there were 20 entries in the competition. We were really happy that many people liked our performance. We also enjoyed the digital paintings and short movies students made.



I can't believe that students organized and prepared this big event by themselves. The school festival was pretty impressive.

NOTE

問１ At the school festival, [ ].

① most food at the stalls was sold out before lunch time
② the dance show was held inside due to poor weather
③ the ghost house was run without electronic devices
④ the karaoke competition was held in the morning

問２ You learned that the writer of this blog [ ].

① enjoyed the ghost tour, the dance show, and the teachers' art works
② sang in the karaoke competition and won third prize
③ tried different dishes and took second place in the karaoke contest
④ was pleased with her dancing and her short movie about the festival

（「大学入学共通テスト」2018 年度試行調査より）

第 3 問 B 対策

You found the following story written by a salesperson in a newspaper.

March of the Machines

Nick Rightfield

After graduating from university in Toronto, I started working for a trading company. This means I have to live and work in various cities. My first post was in New York, a city famous for its office buildings, stores, and nightlife. In my free time, I loved to walk around and search for stores selling interesting items. Even into the night, I would wander from store to store.

Then after two years, I moved to Tokyo. My first impression of Tokyo was that it is a busy city very similar to New York. However, on the first day when I took a night-time walk down the streets of Shinjuku, I noticed a difference. Among the crowds of workers and shoppers, I found rows of brightly-lit vending machines giving off a candy-colored light. In New York, most vending machines are located in office buildings or subway stations. But I never imagined lines of vending machines—standing like soldiers on almost every street—selling coffee, juice, and even noodles 24 hours a day.

As I stood in Shinjuku, I thought about Vancouver, where I was born and raised. To me it was a great city, but having experienced city life in New York and Tokyo, I have to admit how little I knew back in Vancouver. As I was thinking about my life so far, it began to rain. I was about to run to a convenience store when I noticed an umbrella vending machine. Saved! Then I thought perhaps as technology improves, we will be able to buy everything from machines. Will vending machines replace convenience stores? Will machines replace salespeople like me? I didn't sleep well that night. Was it jet lag or something else?

NOTE

問１　The writer moved from place to place in the following order: [ ].

① Toronto → New York → Tokyo → Vancouver
② Toronto → Vancouver → New York → Tokyo
③ Vancouver → New York → Tokyo → Toronto
④ Vancouver → Toronto → New York → Tokyo

問２　The writer says that [ ].

① life in New York is more comfortable than life in Tokyo
② life in Tokyo is less interesting than life in New York
③ the location of vending machines in New York and Tokyo differs
④ the same goods are sold in vending machines in New York and Tokyo

問３　While the writer was in Tokyo, he [ ].

① began to think about selling vending machines
② realized Vancouver was better because it was his hometown
③ started to regret moving from city to city
④ suddenly worried about the future of his job

（「大学入学共通テスト」2017 年度試行調査より）

NOTE

第３問Ａ対策　追加問題

You want to attend a one-day pottery making class in Sydney and found the following blog.

March 3rd, Wednesday

I want to share my first pottery experience in Sydney. I love cooking and that's how I got interested in pottery making. I thought it would be fantastic if I could create a plate just as I want it to be.

I searched for a beginner pottery class on the Internet and found a one-day workshop offered by Earth Clay Studio. What I liked about this studio was that they designed the class so that we can complete the pieces by the end of the first day.

First off, we learned how to prepare, center, and shape our clay. The teacher introduced it by demonstration, then we practiced. The second step was to learn how to trim and turn it. It was a lot of fun! And the final stage was to learn about glazing. Your work is coated in a glaze that makes it waterproof. It was very interesting to see all the different ingredients that are used to create a variety of colors.

It takes a couple of days to fire the pots, so we couldn't take our pieces home with us. My plate will be sent by post. I cannot wait for it to arrive! Overall, the one-day pottery class was a fascinating experience.

NOTE

問 1 The writer decided to go to Earth Clay Studio because ______.

① it was close to where she lived
② all materials were included in the fee
③ their customer reviews were good on their website
④ it allowed her to finish making the piece on the first day

問 2 From this blog, you learned that the writer ______.

① did not like the way the teacher taught
② had previous experience in pottery making
③ was quite happy with her experience in the studio
④ took her plate home with her on that day

共通テスト対策講座 英語<リーディング編>　第３講　解答

第３問Ａ対策

解答

問１　②　　　　問２　③

問題と選択肢の訳

問１　学園祭で，［　　　］。

① 屋台の食べ物はほとんど昼食前に売り切れた
② 悪天候のため，ダンスショーは屋内で開催された
③ 幽霊屋敷は電子装置なしで運営された
④ カラオケ大会は午前中に行われた

問２　あなたは，このブログの著者が［　　　］ことを知った。

① 幽霊ツアー，ダンスショー，教師による芸術作品を楽しんだ
② カラオケ大会で歌って，３位になった
③ 色々な料理を試し，カラオケコンテストで２位になった
④ 自分のダンスと学園祭に関する自分の短編映画に満足した

本文の全訳

あなたは，あなたの学校の女子交換留学生が書いたブログで，次のような話を見つけました。

学園祭

9月15日，日曜日

友達のタクヤと高校の学園祭に行った。私は日本の学園祭に行ったことがなかった。私たちはまず幽霊屋敷を試してみた。よくできていて，プロジェクターと良い音響システムを使い，恐ろしい雰囲気を作り出していた。

それから，生徒によるダンスショーを見た。彼らはかっこよくて，上手に踊った。天気が悪かったのは残念だ。もし晴れていたら，彼らは外で踊れただろうに。ランチタイムには，屋台でハワイアンパンケーキ，タイカレー，メキシカンタコスを食べた。どれもおいしかったが，イタリアンピザはピザの売店を見つけた時には既に売り切れていた。

午後は歌が大好きな二人で一緒にカラオケ大会に参加した。驚くべきことに，私たちはもう少しで優勝するところだった。コンテストには20組の応募があったのだから驚いた。多くの人に私たちの歌を気に入ってもらえて，とてもうれしかった。私たちは生徒たちが作ったデジタル絵画や短編映画も楽しんだ。

生徒たちが自分たちでこの大きなイベントを企画して準備したなんて信じられない。学園祭はとても素晴らしかった。

第 3 問 B 対策

解答

問 1 ④　　問 2 ③　　問 3 ④

問題と選択肢の訳

問 1 著者は次の順序であちこちを転々とした。[ ]

① トロント → ニューヨーク → 東京 → バンクーバー
② トロント → バンクーバー → ニューヨーク → 東京
③ バンクーバー → ニューヨーク → 東京 → トロント
④ バンクーバー → トロント → ニューヨーク → 東京

問 2 著者は [ ] と述べている。

① ニューヨークでの生活は東京での生活より快適だ
② 東京での生活はニューヨークでの生活ほど面白くない
③ ニューヨークと東京では自動販売機の設置場所が異なる
④ ニューヨークと東京の自動販売機では同じ商品が売られている

問 3 著者が東京にいる間，彼は [ ]。

① 自動販売機を売ることを考え始めた
② 故郷だからバンクーバーの方が良かったと気づいた
③ 都市から都市へと移動したことを後悔し始めた
④ 突然，自分の仕事の将来について心配になった

本文の全訳

あなたは新聞で，営業職員によって書かれた次の物語を見つけました。

機械の行進

ニック・ライトフィールド

トロントの大学を卒業後，私は商社に就職した。これは，私は様々な都市に住んで働かなければならないということを意味する。私の最初の赴任地は，オフィスビル，小売店，夜の娯楽で有名な街，ニューヨークだった。暇なときに，私は歩き回って面白い商品を売っている店を探すのが大好きだった。夜更けになっても，私は店から店へと渡り歩いた。

それから２年後，東京に引っ越した。東京の第一印象は，ニューヨークとよく似たにぎやかな都市だということだった。しかし，初日に新宿の夜の街歩きに出て，ある違いに気がついた。大勢の労働者や買い物客の中に，色鮮やかな光を放ちながら明るく照らされた自動販売機の列に出くわしたのだ。ニューヨークでは，ほとんどの自動販売機がオフィスビルか地下鉄の駅にある。しかし，ほぼすべての通りに兵士のように突っ立つ自動販売機の列が，コーヒーやジュース，さらには麺類までも１日24時間売っているとは想像もしなかった。

新宿に立ちながら，自分が生まれ育ったバンクーバーのことを考えた。私にとっては大都市だったが，ニューヨークや東京での都会生活を体験してバンクーバーに戻れば，自分がいかに無知だったかを認めなければならない。これまでの人生について考えていたら，雨が降り始めた。コンビニに走って行こうとしたら，傘の自動販売機に気がついた。助かった！ そして，技術が進歩すれば，機械から何でも買えるようになるのではないかと考えた。自動販売機はコンビニに取って代わるのだろうか？ 機械は私のような営業職員に取って代わるのだろうか？ その夜はよく眠れなかった。時差ボケか，それとも他の何かだったのだろうか？

第３問Ａ対策　追加問題

解答

問１　④　　　　問２　③

問題と選択肢の訳

問１　筆者は [　　] という理由で，アースクレイスタジオに行くことに決めた。

① 自分が住んでいるところに近かった
② 材料がすべて費用に含まれていた
③ ウェブサイトでの顧客のレビューが良かった
④ 初日に作品を仕上げさせてくれる

問２　このブログから，筆者が [　　] ということが分かった。

① 先生の教え方が気に入らなかった
② 前に陶芸の経験をしたことがある
③ スタジオでの体験にとても満足した
④ その日にお皿を家に持ち帰った

本文の全訳

あなたはシドニーの一日陶芸クラスに訪れたくて，以下のブログを見つけました。

3 月 3 日水曜日

シドニーでの最初の陶芸経験について共有したいと思います。私は料理が大好きなので，それがきっかけで陶器を作ることに興味を持ちました。自分が思うとおりのお皿を作ることができたら素晴らしいだろうなぁと思いました。

インターネットで初心者向けの陶芸クラスを探し，アースクレイスタジオで提供されている一日ワークショップを見つけました。このスタジオが気に入ったのは，参加者が初日の終わりには作品を仕上げることができるようにクラスがデザインされていたところです。

まずはじめに，土の準備の仕方，中心の取り方，形成の仕方について学びました。先生が見本を見せてくれ，それから私たちが練習しました。二つ目のステップでは，切り落としたり，回したりする方法を学びました。とても楽しかったです！　そして最後の段階では，うわぐすりについて学びました。うわぐすりをかけると作品が防水になるのです。様々な色彩を作りだすのに使われる様々な材料を見るのはとても興味深かったです。

陶器を焼き上げるのに数日かかるので，家に作品を持って帰ることはできませんでした。私のお皿は郵送されます。到着するのが待ち遠しいです！　概して，一日陶芸クラスは素晴らしい体験でした。

第３講　重要語彙リスト

＊一つ一つ何度も繰り返して，
覚えてください

1	exchange student	交換留学生
2	school festival	学園祭
3	well-made	上手く作られている
4	projector	投影機，プロジェクター
5	frightening	恐ろしい
6	atmosphere	雰囲気
7	perform	～を上演する
8	cool	かっこいい
9	pity	残念な気持ち
10	stall	屋台
11	participate in ～	～に参加する
12	competition	コンテスト
13	as	～だから
14	surprisingly	驚いたことに
15	almost	～しそうになる
16	amazing	驚くほど素晴らしい
17	entry	登録参加者
18	digital painting	デジタル絵画
19	organize	～を企画する
20	impressive	感動的に素晴らしい
21	salesperson	営業職員，販売員
22	graduate from ～	～を卒業する
23	trading company	商社
24	post	役職
25	nightlife	夜遊び
26	walk around	歩き回る
27	wander from A to B	A から B へと渡り歩く
28	move to ～	～に引っ越す
29	first impression	第一印象
30	shopper	買い物客
31	row	横列
32	vending machine	自動販売機
33	give off	～を発する
34	candy-colored	色鮮やかな
35	located in ～	～にある
36	born and raised	生まれ育つ
37	admit	～を認める
38	about to ～	まさに～しようとしている
39	replace	～に取って代わる
40	jet lag	時差ボケ

第３講　音読用白文　①②③④⑤⑥⑦⑧⑨⑩

第３問Ａ対策

School Festival

Sunday, September 15

I went with my friend Takuya to his high school festival. I hadn't been to a Japanese school festival before. We first tried the ghost house. It was well-made, using projectors and a good sound system to create a frightening atmosphere.

Then we watched a dance show performed by students. They were cool and danced well. It's a pity that the weather was bad. If it had been sunny, they could have danced outside. At lunch time, we ate Hawaiian pancakes, Thai curry, and Mexican tacos at the food stalls. They were all good, but the Italian pizza had already sold out by the time we found the pizza stall.

In the afternoon, we participated in a karaoke competition together as both of us love singing. Surprisingly, we almost won, which was amazing as there were 20 entries in the competition. We were really happy that many people liked our performance. We also enjoyed the digital paintings and short movies students made.

I can't believe that students organized and prepared this big event by themselves. The school festival was pretty impressive.

第３問Ｂ対策

March of the Machines

Nick Rightfield

After graduating from university in Toronto, I started working for a trading company. This means I have to live and work in various cities. My first post was in New York, a city famous for its office buildings, stores, and nightlife. In my free time, I loved to walk around and search for stores selling interesting items. Even into the night, I would wander from store to store.

Then after two years, I moved to Tokyo. My first impression of Tokyo was that it is a busy city very similar to New York. However, on the first day when I took a night-time walk down the streets of Shinjuku, I noticed a difference. Among the crowds of workers and shoppers, I found rows of brightly-lit vending machines giving off a candy-colored light. In New York, most vending machines are located in office buildings or subway stations. But I never imagined lines of vending machines—standing like soldiers on almost every street—selling coffee, juice, and even noodles 24 hours a day.

As I stood in Shinjuku, I thought about Vancouver, where I was born and raised. To me it was a great city, but having experienced city life in New York and Tokyo, I have to admit how little I knew back in Vancouver. As I was thinking about my life so far, it began to rain. I was about to run to a convenience store when I noticed an umbrella vending machine. Saved! Then I thought perhaps as technology improves, we will be able to buy everything from machines. Will vending machines replace convenience stores? Will machines replace salespeople like me? I didn't sleep well that night. Was it jet lag or something else?

第３問Ａ対策　追加問題

March 3rd, Wednesday

I want to share my first pottery experience in Sydney. I love cooking and that's how I got interested in pottery making. I thought it would be fantastic if I could create a plate just as I want it to be.

I searched for a beginner pottery class on the Internet and found a one-day workshop offered by Earth Clay Studio. What I liked about this studio was that they designed the class so that we can complete the pieces by the end of the first day.

First off, we learned how to prepare, center, and shape our clay. The teacher introduced it by demonstration, then we practiced. The second step was to learn how to trim and turn it. It was a lot of fun! And the final stage was to learn about glazing. Your work is coated in a glaze that makes it waterproof. It was very interesting to see all the different ingredients that are used to create a variety of colors.

It takes a couple of days to fire the pots, so we couldn't take our pieces home with us. My plate will be sent by post. I cannot wait for it to arrive! Overall, the one-day pottery class was a fascinating experience.